The annual reunion of the Taylor family at Harrisville was held Thursday of this week and was made an affair of rare interest by the presence of Patriarch Pleasant Green Taylor, the only living member of the William Taylor family, consisting of four sons and daughters, all of whom were pioneers of Utah. The occasion was also a celebration of the ninetieth birthday of the pioneer, who was presented with 90 flowers by Ida E. Dixon as a love token from the Harrisville ward.

L. J. Taylor acted as chairman of the reunion and the address of welcome was delivered by Bishop R. R. Brown. The presentation of the flowers to the honor guest of the day followed. A duet by Wilford Taylor and Clarence Bramwell preceded the principal address of the occasion, a historical sketch of the family, delivered by Fred G. Taylor.

Following this, Patriarch Pleasant Green Taylor was assisted to stand and related some of his reminiscences of the Prophet Joseph Smith. One especially interesting incident which he recalled was of a divine healing where in his sister was instantly cured of a serious affliction by the drawing of a silk handkerchief across her face, in accordance with the instructions of the Prophet Joseph, who had caused to be placed on the handkerchief the words, "She will be healed." After concluding his remarks, Grandpa Taylor shook hands with 100 school children, to their manifest great delight.

President L. W. Shurtliff and Patriarch Robert McQuarrie made brief but interesting reminiscence talks of early associations with Patriarch Taylor. One of the events recalled by Patriarch McQuarrie was of a time when he and Patriarch Taylor were members of the Ogden police force. Patriarch Taylor, he said, worked twelve years on the force for nothing, while he was paid $1.50 per year.

A comic song was sung by George Webster and appropriate talks were made by President James Wether- spoon and Patriarch James Ward. Levi J. Taylor, who has charge of genealogical work for the family, made a brief address concerning the importance of the family reunion. He stated that some of the members present had come from a distance of more than 1000 miles to participate in the festivities. Regarding the progeny of Patriarch P. G. Taylor, he stated that 672 descendants of the pioneer had been reported.

A song by Clarence Bramwell followed this talk. At the conclusion of the reunion program of entertainment, the family election was held and L. J. Taylor was chosen president. The reunion was concluded with a sumptuous banquet and dancing.

Patriarch Pleasant Green Taylor arrived in Utah 67 years ago with his wife and two small children. He came to his present homestead in 1851.

He built the first house, directed the construction of the first irrigation canal and plowed the first land within the present limits of the state of Idaho, at Fort Lemhi, in the year of 1855. He was also the first chief of police of the city of Ogden.

He was the father of 36 children, 25 of whom are living. He was born in Bowling Green, Ky., on February 8, 1827.

ANTIQUE HARP IS ON EXHIBITION

In the Parisian palace of the Duke of Orleans, in days of autocracy, before the rise of the great Napoleon, the King of France found keen delight in listening to the seductive strains of a splendid antique harp—the kind in court use in the days of King Saul and David. That historical harp, bearing the royal coat-of-arms, and an engraved certificate that the harp was made by Sebastian, the King's musician, also an inscription that it belonged to the residence of the Duke of Orleans for "small Pleasure of the King," is now on exhibition in a show-window of the Ogden Furniture & Carpet company, 2422-2434 Washington avenue.

The sweet-toned harp was brought to America by a French emigrant in a sailing vessel, during the period when Robert Fulton was dreaming of his future steamship.

Somehow it came into the possession of an actor, who performed in the old Salt Lake theatre, of whom it was purchased by Mr. Erb of Salt Lake, relative of Miss Eva Erb, the well-known court stenographer.

The harp was kept by Mrs. Erb, who played it well, until she passed away. The harp was obtained by Mrs. Minerva Shaw, after the settlement of the Pioneer.

The tone and general condition of the instrument are as fine today as when the regal Duchess of Orleans touched the strings, making delightful music to soothe the temper of her haughty lord and win compliments from a merry monarch.

The harp won medals in 1819-23, and 24, as shown by an inscription.

The engraving was interpreted by Professor James L. Barker of the Weber academy.

"Sorry" Don't Express It

When we say that the carload of SENSIBLE SIX OAKLANDS, including a cut-open chassis ordered for the Ogden Automobile Show and shipped from the factory December 28, has not yet arrived.

However, we are assured by railroad officials that this shipment will be here within the course of the next few days, when there will be a complete line of these cars on exhibition at our salesroom for your inspection and approval.

But that the public might be entirely disappointed in its expectation of seeing the various models of this world-famed Sensible Six, we have secured through the courtesy of Mr. Sam Sharron, distributor of Oakland and Cadillac cars for this district a 1917 Touring Model for use at the show, the same now being on exhibition at both 11.

MAXWELL SUCCESS REFLECTED IN GREAT INCREASE IN OUTPUT

The success of an automobile company is reflected in its production. If there is large production, it follows that a large demand necessitated such a production. The production of the Maxwell Motor company, Inc., has increased by leaps and bounds in the past three seasons. Where it was a modest 30,000 a few short years ago, the production is now well over 100,000 for a single year.

What more dramatic evidence could there be of Maxwell popularity and Maxwell success? The production this season will be double that of last year. No other motor car company has been able to show such sensational progress and as a result of the great activities in the Maxwell plants at Detroit, Dayton, Ohio, and Newcastle, Ind., the name of the company has become a household word wherever automobiles are spoken of.

In spite of the increased prices in steel and other raw materials, the Maxwell company is able now to sell their cars at a price lower than obtained a year ago, while cars of other makes are selling at advanced prices.

BOYS ARE A BIG HELP IN SALE OF MOTOR CARS

"Motor car dealers have touted the part that the women of the family play in the selection of the new motor car," said Bill Taylor, local dealer for Oakland Motor cars, "but most of them have neglected to think of the boy. And it's my opinion that the boy has even a bigger say in the final selection."

"The average boy is greatly interested in automobiles. If you listen to a crowd of youngsters on a corner, you will soon learn that they know all the makes of cars by sight and many of them have a fair knowledge of the good points of a car, which they have gained by reading everything that they see about automobiles."

"By nature a boy is a staunch supporter of the things that he believes in and it takes a lot of persuasion to change his opinion. That's what makes a boy a good person to have in favor of an automobile."

"We find that most boys are interested in Oakland cars. They seem to be attracted to them from the start and every time a boy comes in with his father we discover that the youngster has sold the parent on the merits of an Oakland.

CADILLAC EIGHT IS SATISFACTORY

In the ownership of a motor car, there are certain features and characteristics which are vitally essential to the physical and mental comfort of the motorist—virtually essential to his complete satisfaction and contentment.

In the opinions of Cadillac "Eight" owners, as well as many thousands of non-owners, the Cadillac car provides the most practical combination of the characteristics which contribute to that physical and mental comfort, and to that complete satisfaction and contentment—without embodying features which have a tendency to detract from them.

Shock Absorber for Ford Cars

Some Ford owners are from Missouri. They have seen so many make-believe shock absorbers, they have to be shown that the HASSLER SHOCK ABSORBER is all we claim before they will give it a ten days' trial on their own cars.

To convince some of these skeptics, one of our dealers performed the stunts illustrated above. By driving his Ford equipped with the HASSLER over a trestle and down a flight of steps he showed his passengers that the HASSLER provides easy resilient action, and that it prevents rebound and sideways. But most important he proved the strength and durability of the HASSLER, for the cruel jolts could not break it.

You, of course, don't intend to go touring over trestles and stone steps but you will find a good deal of satisfaction in knowing that with HASSLER SHOCK ABSORBERS on your Ford you can drive easily and safely over the roughest roads and get as much comfort and pleasure out of your car as if it were a big $2,000.00 limousine. And you can be sure that your first investment in the HASSLER will be your only investment because these shock absorbers will last as long as your car.
